Dear Parents and Guardians,

I hope this email finds you well. As the new principal of our school, I am incredibly excited to start the academic term with you and your children. I am writing to remind you that school will begin at 8:30am on Monday, April 17th for all students.

It is important that your child arrives promptly to school every day. We understand that unforeseen circumstances can happen, but consistent punctuality will help to set your child up for academic success. I encourage you to plan ahead and make arrangements to ensure your child arrives at school on time. I would like to stress the importance of attendance and its link to academic progress. Regular attendance is crucial for your child to make the most of their education and reach their full potential. Missing school can result in missed learning opportunities, which can have a significant impact on academic progress.

In addition, I want to stress the importance of correct uniform and equipment. Wearing the correct uniform creates a sense of community and promotes pride in our school. Furthermore, having the correct equipment enables your child to engage fully in all aspects of the curriculum.

Finally, I would like to remind you of our high behaviour standards. We expect all students to conduct themselves with respect, courtesy, and consideration for others. This includes being mindful of the environment and facilities around them. We encourage positive behaviour and values at all times.

As we start the new academic term, I am confident that our students will continue to thrive and achieve great success. I am honoured to lead this school and I look forward to working with you to create a welcoming, inclusive, and inspiring environment for our children.

Thank you for your continued support.

Mr R S Cordon
